HERO BRAVES DEADLY GAS AFTER THREE OTHERS DIE TRYING TO RESCUE FOURTH

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

COLUMBUS (O.), Jan. 24.—A small gas-filled shaft forty-seven feet deep, within a caisson of the New American Building here, claimed the lives of four men today, three of the victims going to their deaths as heroes. A fifth man went to the rescue through unheeded and a few hours later a movement was started to reward him.

The dead are C. R. Bowen, Greenwood, Ind.; Jack Smith, New York City; John C. McCarthy, New York City, and John Peterson, Columbus.

All the men were steamfitters, employed by the John Gill Construction Company of Cleveland.

Circumstances surrounding the tragedy are not clear. It is believed Bowen was in the shaft fitting pipes when he was overcome and fell to the bottom. One of the victims climbed down to see what had happened. When neither appeared within a short time another went down the tube to investigate.

Suddenly a huge crane swung high into the air from another part of the excavation. Dangling from its steel cable was William V. (Big Bill) Martin, a structural steel worker. Fellow-workmen remonstrated.

"Big Bill" snatched his fingers, signalled the crane engineer and he was dropped into the shaft.

Four times the cable was lowered and each time it brought to the surface a limp form. Then out of the shaft came "Big Bill." His face was ashen white. His gas mask was gone. He had taken it off when it hampered him. He refused to go to a hospital.

Four secret prisoners in Anaheim Klan war

Pastor's Home and Church Under Heavy Guard; Town Excited as Election Nears

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

ANAHEIM, Jan. 25.—Four mysterious prisoners held by the Anaheim police in a secret place overshadowed tonight the excitement over the placing of a guard over the person, the home and church of Rev. J. A. Geisinger, pastor of the Anaheim Methodist Church, and the general furor over the coming city recall election which is to be fought out on Klan and anti-Klan lines.

With Dr. Geisinger, who is the leader of the U. S. Club, an anti-Klan organization, carefully guarded, it was rumored that two of the prisoners were accused of a plot against Rev. J. A. Geisinger, the pastor of the Anaheim Methodist Church. The latter stated high in Klan circles.

The prisoners are also credited by current rumor with having told the police that they were in Anaheim to "take the goods" of the Mayor and various members of the Board of Trustees.

The affidavit credited to Mrs. Brooks contained mention of a memorandum which she is asserted to have said was supplied to her by a person who had been in contact with the U. S. Club, and which concerned the prisoners.

While there was some uncertainty about the four prisoners, there was no doubt about the fact that the police were guarding the pastor of the Anaheim Methodist Church, and the general furor over the coming city recall election which is to be fought out on Klan and anti-Klan lines.

LIES ABOUT SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

Oil Man Suffers Broken Ribs; Wife and Two Others Are Shaken Up

C. C. JULIAN INJURED IN AUTO WRECK

Fall Varies From Two and a Half Inches in San Luis Obispo to Light Showers in Imperial Valley

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

SAN FRANCISCO, Jan. 25.—Rain tomorrow and unsettled weather for the entire week is the prediction of the government forecasters for the Pacific Coast. Forecasters are predicting the rain which they have been warning for a month. The rain which started late Saturday night had caused most of California by today, only the southern section being untouched.

The precipitation varied from 2 1/2 inches in San Luis Obispo to a light shower in the Imperial Valley. San Francisco got almost 1 1/2 inches, while San Jose received .36 of an inch. Localities which had more than an inch of rain over the week-end were Colusa, 1.81 inches; Oroville, 1.69; Santa Rosa, 1.59; Stockton, 1.64; San Francisco, 1.59; San Luis Obispo, 2.56 inches.

The total rainfall for the season in San Francisco is now 15.3 inches, compared with a normal of 11.73 inches to date. Last year at this time only 4.71 inches of rain had fallen.

The air mail service was completely disrupted over the week-end, both east and westbound planes stopping at Reno. Air mail was forwarded between San Francisco and Los Angeles by the Overland Limited. The service is expected to be resumed immediately.

In San Francisco the wet streets and high winds were responsible for a number of accidents. The summit of the Sierras is in the grip of a driving blizzard accompanied by a bitter cold wave. In the northern section the mercury has fallen to as low as 40 deg. below zero, while in the central section throughout Iowa, Nebraska, Illinois, Indiana, Kansas and Missouri, very low temperatures prevail. All through the central territory heavy snows are seriously impeding railroad transportation; highway traffic in many places is at a standstill because of huge snow drifts, and heavy gases are doing great damage.

The present storm and the general cold wave are footholds of the paralyzing cold, which descended on that section Sunday. The Pas and Winnipeg reported 25 below. It was 22 deg. below at Minneapolis, Minn., and 30 below at Bismarck, N. D. Eau Claire, Wis., reported 17 deg. below, with business at a standstill because of huge drifts of snow.

During the day the storm spread southward. Nebraska was engulfed in a frigid wave when it was 18 deg. above in the morning. In eighteen hours the entire State is suffering from zero weather. Iowa suffers similarly. Throughout Missouri and Kansas thermometers dropped to zero and many cities reported blinding snowstorms. Strong north winds were drifting the snow. Hutchinson, Kan., reports a drop from 18 deg. above to zero.

MEET TUES TO SNOW Central Illinois is in the throes of one of the worst blizzards of the season, with the mercury recording 2 deg. above zero. This was a drop of 13 deg. in two hours. High winds are drifting the snow, making travel on highways impossible. Central Indiana reports similar conditions with below zero weather in prospect before morning. In Chicago a stinging sleet early in the morning developed into a snowstorm of blizzard proportions and the temperature began a steady descent. The sleet that preceded the snowstorm made the streets slippery and many accidents were reported to the police as the result of falls. Elevated and street-car traffic was delayed by slippery rails.

In a cold-wave warning the weather forecaster predicted temperatures down around the zero mark. Visions of spring, encouraged by the mild temperature over the Sabbath, were rudely routed. According to the weather man the present wave is an offshoot of some 40-below-zero weather which the interior of Alaska is enjoying.

SOUTHWEST BEGINS WITH COLD SWAP (BY A. P. MONT WIRE) OMAHA (Neb.), Jan. 25.—A 47-deg. drop in eighteen hours to a minimum of 4 deg. below zero, with a stiff twenty-five-mile wind right from the North Pole and all with practically no warning, caused Omaha to shiver to its very marrow this morning.

The subzero weather continued and is holding every section of the State in its grasp. Sunday afternoon thermometers stood at 31 deg. above zero. At 7 o'clock this morning the same thermometers were 4 deg. below and Omaha had no further thoughts of spring. No snow accumulation.

PRESIDENT CALLS ON ALL OFFICIALS TO PARE COSTS

Orders Federal Expenditures Kept Below Three Billions to Allow More Relief to Taxpayers

(BY A. P. MONT WIRE)

WASHINGTON, Jan. 25.—The four years of administration upon which President Coolidge enters March 4, were dedicated by the Executive tonight to a reduction of the tax burden, a decrease in Federal expenditure, and "continuing pressure for economy" within the government.

Speaking before the regular semi-annual meeting of executive and administrative officials of the government, Mr. Coolidge declared that if Congress sustained the current budget recommendations for expenditures, he would be able next fall to propose a further cut in taxes. The President expects a surplus of $123,000,000 for the year 1926, and on that basis, he asserted, further tax relief should be granted. He warned, however, that any new and unnecessary expenditures would upset the plans of the Treasury, now seemingly assured of the success.

The President also told the officials that hereafter there must be a policy within the government of getting more work done with fewer workers. He said there could be no cut in the number of the workers and that the only hope of reducing a pay roll that last year aggregated $1,650,000,000, was to reduce the number on that pay roll.

The proceedings of the meeting of the Federal officials, including the President's address, were broadcast by radio from ten stations throughout the country.

INCREASING PROSPERITY "We are evidently entering upon an era of increasing business activity and material prosperity," said the President. "With increasing business, we can surely prosper by increasing revenues. I have heretofore indicated my purpose that growing revenues shall be absorbed in unwarranted increases in Federal expenditures. As the country grows and prospers, a reasonable increase in cost of government is expected. That increase, however, must not be limited to keep dollar for dollar, but to keep the increase in revenue.

"Necessary increases in the cost of government must be offset by reduction in costs of existing activities. The elimination of waste and the discontinuance of projects that can be dispensed with, without interference with Federal activities, are essential to the success of this policy."

He also said that the cost of government must be reduced to a point where they cease to be a burden. Loyalty to the taxpayer of this country demands that we secure this result.

Budget estimates of expenditures for the current fiscal year, which ends next June 30, call for an outlay of $3,234,000,000, and the President said that the figure includes $471,000,000 reduction of the public debt. He reiterated that it was his desire to bring the public debt, within three billion dollars, to a point where it ceases to be a burden. He said that the reduction of the public debt must be a reduction of $4,000,000,000.

CAN BE DONE, SAYS LORD This was the job cut out for the executive and administrative officials of the government, and Mr. Coolidge said that he was confident that they would do it. He said that the reduction of the public debt must be a reduction of $4,000,000,000.

ROCKEFELLER'S PLAN IS UPHELD

Employee Representation is Found Satisfactory
Brings Industrial Peace in Coal and Iron Mines

Russell Sage Foundation's
Criticism Answered

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The employee representation in the Colorado Fuel and Iron Company, as approved by John D. Rockefeller, Jr., and criticized in a preliminary
report of the Russell Sage Foundation, has produced industrial peace after industrial peace after it was introduced by the company in 1918, according to A. H. Lichty, vice-president.

"For more than eight years,"
said Vice-President Lichty in a statement made public here
through the American Management Association, "every question arising between the employees and management
in the company has been adjusted by peaceful and harmonious methods to the general satisfaction of all concerned."

Mr. Lichty in Denver authorized the association by wire to publish
his company's side of the question,
which had been raised by the Russell
Sage Foundation investigators.

Mr. Lichty shared the Colorado fuel and iron company's point of view that the joint representation plan had been worked out, experience would undoubtedly develop ways of improving
it. He said:

"We recognize that joint representation
is by no means a perfect solution. It must be operated by men on both sides who are thoroughly honest and somewhat
selfish and inconsiderate."

NEW PROBLEMS ARISE
"We face new and sometimes difficult problems as our experience
widens. However, we have found that none of them is impossible of solution. We are greatly encouraged by the progress made. We are steadily increasing our confidence in the underlying principles of our plan; we believe they face in the right direction and we are confident of joint representation is one of large promise for all concerned."

Mr. Lichty stated the Colorado
Fuel and Iron Company introduced the joint plan in October, 1918,
after its mutual ratification by employees
and the company directors.
It applied to a working force
of from 15,000 to 17,000 workers,
representing fifty-four nationalities,
employed in twenty-five different communities in Colorado and Wyoming.

Only one important case had since been carried to the State Industrial Commission, a wage adjustment negotiated between employees
and the management, he said,
"and the commission, after careful investigation, approved the decision that was first proposed
within our organization."

ADJUSTED WITH MEN
Saying that more and more the questions arising between the employees and the local management were being "adjusted at the source," Mr. Lichty continued:
"Rather than have a highly centralized industrial relations department,
we believe the responsibility
for the carrying out of the purposes of joint representation should be recognized as a legitimate part of the regular duties of every operating official from the President of the company down to the least important straw boss."

Management's responsibility for developing increasingly right
relations with the men and their employers is a continuous process. When this is done, almost invariably a satisfactory response will come from the employees. The right thing will be done in the right spirit will sooner or later
bring the desired results."

SURPLUS OF LABOR
Mr. Lichty gave as one result that 10 per cent of the men hired at the steel works in 1918 had previously served in the employ of the company. The surplus of labor labor shortage, the company had had "a constant surplus."

"Except during the peak of the war demand," Mr. Lichty said, "our company has had no labor shortage
since long before the war."
Joint conference, he found, had demonstrated that general questions
which might at first appear to be of interest to one side only,
are really of mutual concern.

The accomplished fact of actual personal contact between the men and their employers invariably progressed from mutual understanding to mutual confidence, and then to adjustment of disagreements
with a minimum of friction.

"The greatest possible assurance of security of a man's job" was given by Mr. Lichty as one of the principal objects of the plan had
in mind when it launched employees'
representation.

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)
SAN JOSE, Jan. 26.—The

gather in Los Angeles next Monday
to begin a tour of the water project.
It was announced here today
by Senator Herbert C. Jones, the champion.

During the investigation representatives
both of the agriculturalists and the city will be heard. At the conclusion of the tour the committee will meet at a place to be announced later to frame its decision.

and will be sent this week to Congress.

Members of the Senate committee
invited to the conference included
Chairman Norris and Senators Capper, Kansas; Kewanee, New

ESKIMOS IN SOVIET NET GOING HOME

United States Government
to Transport Wrangell
Island Colony Survivors

(BY CARL E. SCHLITZ DISPATCH)
TOKYO, Jan. 26.—Eleven American Eskimos who left their homes in Nootka in 1912 to become traders with Wrangell Island, will sail
from Yokohama tomorrow for Seattle
en route home in the care of the United States government. Originally expecting only a short voyage
in the Arctic, they will have covered thousands of miles and have traveled through five continents
as a result of being caught in the vortex of international politics.

Seventeen Eskimos were in the party when it set out. They were all arrested at Wrangell Island for trespassing by the soviet, who took them to Vladivostok for trial. Later they were sent to Harbin, where they became charges of the American authorities.

Wells died of pneumonia on Wrangell Island while being held a prisoner. The surviving Eskimos of the party later were brought from the mainland to Japan.

Four Children
Perish in Fire
as Home Burns

JOPLIN (Mo.) Jan. 26.—Four small children, the eldest 4, and the youngest 2 years of age, were burned to death today in a fire that destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs.
Zack Cooper, near here.

The children were Dorothy, 4;
Mary Belle, 4; Cecil, 3 and Jack,
2 years of age.
The children were alone in the house when the fire broke out. A neighbor, in a short distance away, saw the smoke and rushed to the house. The roof and walls had already fallen in and the children had perished.

CORPORATIONS STILL OWE STATE MILLIONS

SECOND INSTALLMENT OF TAX
ON FRANCHISES DUE
FEBRUARY 3

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)
SACRAMENTO, Jan. 26.—California
corporations still owe the State $18,431,575, representing the second installment of franchise taxes for the year 1931-1932, according to State Controller Ray L. Riley.
Approximately 25,000 corporations are delinquent and must pay this tax on or before February 3 or a penalty of 5 per cent will be added.

The total tax amounted to $40-255,067, of which $20,174,445 has been paid and $1,563,027 held up by two transcontinental railroad companies pending the outcome of the King tax bill case, now before the United States Supreme Court. The railroads, according to Controller Riley,
will have to pay into the State Treasury $11,568,060 if the King tax suit is decided in the State's favor by the Supreme Court. This is franchise tax money which has accumulated since 1921, when the King bill was passed by the Legislature.

INTIMIDATION CHARGED
IN COUNTERFEIT CASE

TESTIMONY TO GRAND JURY
IMPROPERLY OBTAINED,
SUSPECT ASSERTS

(BY A. P. MURPHY WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Jan. 26.—Evan Glavanovic, convicted in the United States District Court in San Francisco on a charge of having passed counterfeit bank notes, today
moved in the United States Supreme Court for the right to file a petition for a writ of mandamus against Judge Partridge, the trial judge, on the ground that Glavanovic was intimidated into giving false testimony.

According to his petition, Glavanovic was taken to Los Angeles after his arrest in San Francisco and there compelled to give incriminating testimony against himself before the Federal grand jury. He contended that before the grand jury admitting his guilt, was improperly obtained
and could not be used against him.

SHEPHERD TALKS ON LOVE NOTES

Says Letters to Nurse Have
No Bearing on Death Case
Charges Girl Attempted to Blackmail Him

Leaving Albuquerque to Attend Inquest

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
ALBUQUERQUE (N. M.) Jan. 26.—
Dr. D. D. Shepherd, principal hail to the estate of William McClintock, declared today that his love letters to Miss Estelle Gehling, nurse, had no bearing whatever on the McClintock death inquiry and that he was leaving Albuquerque
the last of this week for Chicago
to be present when the inquest into McClintock's death is resumed.

"I became acquainted with Miss Gehling in 1913, when I was ill at the American Hospital," Shepherd said. "Afterward, Miss Gehling and I, with Dr. Olson, the brother of Judge Olson, and another woman formed a partnership. There was nothing wrong at any of these affairs. Miss Gehling attempted to blackmail me after I realized my mistake and I put an end to the acquaintance."

CHARGES BLACKMAIL
"Miss Gehling started bothering
me for money two years later and again last fall. In order to save her off, I told her I had no money.
She sent a friend, 'Blossom' Taylor,
to threaten me. I refused to have dealings with either of them.
None of the letters written by me
have any bearing on the McClintock
case."

Questioned as to whether his friendship with Miss Gehling was sufficient to have the letters termed
"love letters" or to cause rise to comment, Mr. Shepherd said he was perfectly willing to have the letters introduced as evidence at the inquest; that he did not remember exactly what they contained, and would make no comment on their contents.

GUARD MRS. SHEPHERD
Asked whether one of them was written November, shortly before McClintock's death, Mr. Shepherd
he did not remember the exact date. Shepherd refused to permit
Mrs. Shepherd to be interviewed.

"Mrs. Shepherd has seen none of my newspapers since I immediately
left about this inquiry or the letters,"
he said.

of all kinds, it will extend a rousing welcome to officers and men of

Provincial government, which has

vital importance to the cattle industry of the Southwest in the matter of obtaining credit is to be made today by Albert C. Williams of Fort Worth, member of the

ALEX HART SUBSTITUTES FOR BARRETT AT VERNON

Illness Forces Bobby to His Bed; Stable-mate Meets Bercot in Main Event Tonight

Alex Hart, sturdy stablemate of Bobby Barrett, will substitute for the latter against Dede Bercot in the ten-round main event at Doyle's tonight. Barrett is in bed with the flu, with which he was attacked Saturday night, and won't be out for several days. He woke up Sunday with a fever of 103, and the doctor told him he could forget all about his engagement with Bercot tonight.

While not the sensational knockout sensation that Barrett is, Hart has boxed a bunch of the leading lightweights in the East and has not come off second best. His record includes bouts with Henry Leonard, George (K.O.) Chaney,
Rocky Kansas, Sailor Freedman, Joe Topilla, Joe Dundee and many others. He has never been knocked out and he has beaten many of the best boys in his class.

One of Hart's most recent victories before coming to the Coast
was over Joe Dundee, who last week knocked out Nate Goldman.
He arrived in this city a week ago
along with Barrett and their manager, Jimmy Daugherty, the "Baron of Leipsville."
Hart wanted a match with Joe Benjamin, but the latter was after something easier for his comeback
and turned him down. As a consequence Hart has only been working out casually, but with Barrett's

Frisch and Sand Examined by District Attorney in New York in O'Connell-Dolan Scandal

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Frank Frisch, captain of the New York Giants and J. H. (Hinnie) Sand, shortstop of the Philadelphia National baseball club, were examined by an assistant District Attorney today as a preliminary to a proposed grand jury investigation of last fall's baseball scandal.

Sand is the man to whom Jimmy O'Connell, Giant outfielder, was alleged to have offered a $500 bribe
if he would not bear down too hard
in a game with the pennant challenger, Frisch. Frisch was said by O'Connell to have been one of three Giant players who induced him to make the bribery proposition to make the bribery proposition to Sand.

Mr. Broderick said that he had accepted the offer of Baseball Commissioner Landis to bring to this city any National League player who was charged with bribery,
question concerning the scandal.
Dist. Atty. Danton announced last week that he planned to present
the evidence to the grand jury under a State law which specifically provides for the prosecution of persons charged with bribery in connection with organized baseball.

BOXING ENRICHES NEW YORK STATE BY MILLION DOLLARS

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Boxing has sent more than a million dollars clinking into the coffers of the State of New York since the sport went under commission control in September, 1923.
More than $1,000,000 in revenue from boxing in a little more than four years. And yet a year ago the State's legislators at Albany were talking about ruling the sport out of existence.
After the deduction of all expenses approximately $800,000 clear profit to the State remains.

NURMI IS SET FOR BIG RACE

Phenomenal Finn Meets Ray Again Tonight

Ugo Frigerio Makes Debut at Indoor Meet

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Unperturbed by the first defeat of his American campaign in a hand-saw race Saturday, Paavo Nurmi declared himself fit today for the two races in which he will be a central figure tomorrow and Wednesday
nights at Madison Square Garden
in the eighteenth annual track and field carnival of the Millrose A.A.,
the most pretentious indoor meet
of the season.

Nurmi will be only one of an unusual galaxy of international stars competing, but his races
against Joe Ray at three quarters of a mile tomorrow night, and at a mile and a half Wednesday will attract outstanding interest.

Coming on top of Nurmi's unexpected setback at the hands of his countryman, 35-year-old Gun-nar Nilsson, who holds the American cross-country championship,
the showing of the Phantom Finn
this week will hold added interest. There was an impression among some critics after Saturday's meet, that Nurmi was becoming stale and lacked the "kick"
usual in his finishing sprint, but
to offset this view was the fact that Nurmi added two world records to his string and actually won ninety-nine yards better than Wilson over the whole route of the race, since the latter, starting with a handicap of 100 yards, was required to break the tape first by only a stride.

WALKER TO CARRY OFF BIG PURSE

Mickey to Receive Nearly $25,000 for His End in Go Here With Collins

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Edward Joseph Walker, better known in state circles as Mickey Walker, is brushing up on his vocabulary and taking a peek every now and then in the book of etiquette in preparation for the biggest event in his young life.

At the same time Smiling Mickey is in hard training for the most important "bout" in his brilliant career. The welterweight king will spar three times tonight with a former
two-minute rounds with an officer of the yacht Mayflower
for the education of Calvin Goulding, President of these United States, Cabinet member, Army and Navy officers
and some invited guests of the President.

ANDREWS IS SIGNED BY JACK ROOT

Veteran Boxing Promoter Engaged to Make Matches for Olympic Club

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)
CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—Tom Andrews, veteran Milwaukee
promoter, has accepted the job of matchmaker for Jack Root's Olympic Club in Los Angeles and will leave for the Coast in about ten days. Root is a former Chicagoan and at one time held the light heavyweight championship. He was here the other day and gave out this information. Andrews and Root made a trip to New York, where they signed several champions to appear against California boxers some time during the spring.

ARMY PLAN APPROVED

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Preliminary approval of the Amateur Athletic Union has been granted to a plan submitted by United States
Army athletic authorities to place
Army athletics throughout the country on an amateur basis in conformity with A.A.U. regulations
and eliminate cash prizes for soldier events.

Announcement of this was made today by Murray Hulbert, president of the A.A.U., after conference with Lieut.-Col. Thomas J.
Johnson of the General Staff in charge of War Department operations and training divisions. The plan, as laid before Mr. Hulbert by Col. Johnson, has been approved by the legislative committee of the
A.A.U. and shortly will be submitted to the board of governors of the athletic organization for a final decision.

RABBIT PUNCHES

BY PAUL LOWRY

BOBBY BARRETT, the rus-
set-haired lightweight from Philadelphia, has two good reasons other than his postponed engagement with Dede Bercot for being in Los Angeles. One is the desire to get another crack at Oakland Jimmy Duffy, and the other is to buy a family
home in which to install his wife and two kiddies.

Bobby, according to Jimmy Daugherty, his manager, is one of those quiet fellows who married the first girl he fell in love with and he is wrapped up heart and soul with his gang. Back East he suffers with inflammatory rheumatism in the winter and was prevented from fighting a heavy
all last year, wherefore he figures the whole Barrett tribe
will be winners in the end if he settles in the sunny Southland.

About two years ago Jimmy Duffy, who was considered pre-tely good up around Oakland and other California points decided to take a running brood jump back East. For a while he had himself billed under the family name of Hymie Gold. He did well until discovered simultaneously
by the New York Boxing commission and Bobby Barrett.

The New York Commission
advised him to resume his fighting name and Barrett
cut his career in the East short by knocking him out in the third round at Philadelphia.

But now that he's on the Coast Barrett wants to take Duffy again, and Daugherty advances the argument for making this match that if Barrett beats Duffy he will get a deal more credit for it in the East than if he held a lot of tough fellows like Dede Bercot who are unknown the other side of the Rockies.

Tommy Loughran says the toughest fight he ever had was one with Jimmy Barry about three years ago at Philadelphia. The broad-shouldered Quaker, sturdy high-heavyweight hadn't quite arrived then, and nobody knew very much about him.

On the same day in a preliminary fight was "Kid" Kaplan, the new king of the featherweight division. Barry and Kaplan were in the former's dressing-room just before the main event, and Loughran
overheard them planning to drop from first place to a tie for second
with Wilshire's representatives,
who still cling fanatically to second position in spite of the fact

Christine of the Hungry Heart

by Kathleen Norris

She was awake when Ivan got home, at midnight. He was in great spirits. Kate always had excellent dinners and excellent

wine, and evidently the reconciliation with his father had been most touching, and satisfying, emotionally. He admitted that he announced triumphantly that his name had not even been mentioned.

"Mother's a wonder at that sort of thing," Ivan exclaimed, rapidly

undoing. "I think she's a gorgeous woman. She's a real woman.

"It will be good to see her again," Chris forced herself to say, from the confusion of her despairing heart.

Ivan paused, looked thoughtful,

brightened.

"I'll tell you what," he said

aggressively. "I think that's a good idea. I won't say anything about it to her—you simply

come!"

Chris looked at him steadily, quietly. Or perhaps it was really upset herself that she fixed her

sombre and stricken gaze.

That was the beginning. It was not all so hard, as the weeks

went on, for there were

when she looked most beautiful

and when she was a real woman

meeting with some friends of Ivan's on the avenue, or a dinner

at home, and a long evening of

talk, but heart and confidence into her again.

And then, another bit of happen was to find that a good

cottage of Scarsdale. This was no

real estate agent's stereotyped

offering; it was the sweetest

most unusual place in the town,

yet comfortably out of the town

limits, and Towley himself, off

for a year of wandering, turned over just as it stood, to the delighted Vianney.

It was small. All the better!

Chris and one maid could handle it. It had a tiny kitchen, and a big dining-room, and a study

turned into a drawing-room, with

books in the built-in sideboard,

and a piano and a great log in the open fireplace. And the real drawing-room was across the hall, Ivan had for a study.

He was as pleased as a boy about getting himself and his typewriter

settled there.

"They had agreed to keep out of all social complications with the neighborhood; Chris felt a dis-

taste for the two or three dis-

ting women, and their uninteresting husbands, who occupied

the adjoining houses.

"Once we get in with them,

we're hooked," said Ivan. "I don't want to say anything about it to her—you simply come!"

Ivan was in many ways, a child, reduced to a very selfishness for example—the most conspicuous characteristic, since

childhood—was that of a boy

about to get through at

Closing Defense Arguments Presented Jury

arguments for the defense were

Randolph Laughlin of St. Louis,

counsel for J. W. Thompson, co-

defendant with former Director

Charles R. Forbes.

The prosecution argument of

Asst. Atty.-Gen. Ralph Potter was in a verdict of guilty as a surety

that the integrity of our government may be maintained. He asserted the case "struck at the

RECIPE TO DARKEN GRAY HAIR

You Can Make a Better Gray Hair Remedy Than You Can Buy

Gray, streaked or faded hair is not only unbecoming, but unnecessary.

Anyone can prepare a simple mixture at home that will darken gray hair, and make it soft and glossy. To a half-pint of water add 1 ounce of bay rum, a small box of Barbo Compound and 1/4 oz. of glycerine.

These ingredients can be bought at any drug store at very little cost, or the druggist will put it up for you. Apply to the hair twice a week until the desired shade is obtained. This will make a gray-haired person look twenty years younger. It is easy to use, does not color the scalp, is not sticky or greasy and does not rub off.—(Advertisement.)

GOV. HUNT AND SENATE AT ODDS

Row Rumored Over Arizona Executive Appointments

Debate Behind Closed Doors Said Without Result

Many Bills Go Through Mill in Both Houses

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

PHOENIX, Jan. 26.—Rumors of a disagreement between the State Senate and Gov. Hunt were current tonight, following a secret session of that body this afternoon. It is understood the two branches of State government are not in accord on the question of some of the Governor's appointments. At the meeting today behind closed doors members of the Senate debated the question for hours, and at its close it was said no action was taken.

A Senate bill gives authorization for return by the State of indigent charges to the foreign country or state of their nativity. This especially is directed against further maintenance of thirty-seven Mexicans in the insane asylum, though it also applies to persons who have become public charges after a residence of less than a year in Arizona.

Senate approval was given the memorial seeking temporary suspension of forest grazing fees.

The House killed a bill lowering the contract interest rate from 10 per cent to 8 per cent. It also disapproved a bill that would have allowed refunding of municipal and school district bonds. Approval was given a bill permitting women to vote on community property qualifications at school elections.

Much of the House morning session was devoted to wrangling over the Presidential preference primary bill. Una Mujer Abofetea a un Agente de Policía

Entre los milares de gentes que violaron ayer el reglamento de tráfico, en lo relativo a la prohibición de cruzar la vía pública a mitad de la calle, solo hubo dos que fueran conducidas ante el juez, porque el Capitán Cleveland Heath, jefe de la división de tráfico, dispuso que se concedieran unos cuantos días más de gracia a los peatones, antes de imponerles la multa de $1 que previene la nueva ley.

Una de las personas que merecieron ser llevadas ante el juez, fue Mrs. Frances Willmarth, quien ocasionó un escándalo en la esquina de las calles Sexta y Broadway, debido a que abofeteó al agente de tráfico Luke, por haberla detenido cuando trataba de pasar la vía, cuando el semáforo no señalaba al tráfico por esa rumbo.

El oficial de policía pidió auxilio al agente Coppola, entre ambos sujetaron a la señora que propinó golpes a Luke, hasta que llegó el coche de ambulancia, en el cual fue enviada la culpable al juzgado. El ayudante Hubbs le dio allí una conferencia sobre el nuevo reglamento, y después de amonestarla por su proceder, la puso en libertad.

El otro detenido fue John Hyde, quien insoletaba en cruzar la vía pública en forma que contrariaba el reglamento vigente; el agente de policía que se lo impidió, también recibió una bofetada. Hyde fue conducido al juzgado, en donde depositó $1 de fianza, y quedó luego en libertad.

Dentro de pocos días, según informan en las oficinas de policía, cuando ya el público se haya dado cuenta del modo que debe cumplirse el nuevo reglamento, se empezará con toda energía a cumplir las sanciones que establece el mismo, dándose a los infractores papeleta de cita para que respondan de las infracciones cometidas, en las oficinas de policía. Para ello, se obligará a los que infrinjan el reglamento a identificarse su persona; y si se considera que el infractor es persona honorable, se le dará un plazo para comparecer al juzgado de policía, y si no fuere identificado satisfactoriamente, se le conducirá inmediatamente.

Why d'ye think 600,000 people go into candy stores every day in the year, lay down 600,000 dimes and say "Oh Henry!"

That's what happens every day in the year... 600,000 bars a day!

But what d'ye think's the reason? It's just this:

The man who originated Oh Henry! had the idea of making a GOOD candy to sell in the quantity that most people want... just a little to nibble on!

And he pays as much for his materials as the best package candy manufacturers pay.

He won't make a 5c bar, because he can't make it good enough.

And 600,000 people appreciate that quality EVERY day. You'll like it yourself!

Not Fair to the Railroads

Santa Fe Says Gooding Bill, in Congress, would impair railroads Pacific Coast traffic—adversely affecting merchants, farmers, manufacturers and others in Western States

The Gooding bill, now before Congress, would greatly divert traffic to the Atlantic Seaboard from the Middle West. It would thus retard the development of the Middle West and its railroads by preventing competition for Pacific Coast business with the Atlantic Seaboard and the steamship lines.

Unregulated canal competition has already taken from the Middle West much business which can be regained by this territory only if the railroads are allowed to make rates to compete with the canal.

The Central States and their railroads have enjoyed a share in this Pacific Coast business from the beginning of the operation of transcontinental lines, and this tonnage was a large factor justifying their being built. Under the present law, the Interstate Commerce Commission is authorized to permit the railroads to equalize canal rates, and application for this is pending. Until 1918 the railroads had this permission. Then, due to the war, canal competition ceased and the Commission withdrew the permission. Now the ships are back in greater numbers than ever and have taken practically all competitive traffic, while the railroads have lacked the permission to equalize rates.

The Gooding bill, which has passed the Senate and is being considered by the House, would withdraw from the Interstate Commerce Commission authority to grant any such permission. It will not help intermountain states, because steamship rates between the Atlantic and Pacific Coasts will continue lower than those of the railroads; and it will not add to the Coast competition of intermountain distributors for the railroads to handle a part of the business.

This westbound business on which the railroads desire to compete comprises highly manufactured articles moving in great volume, made both in the Atlantic States and in the Central and Middle Western States and sold on the Pacific Coast. It now moves largely via the canal. The Atlantic Seaboard pays only the low canal rates. The Middle West producer must pay either the additional rail charge to the Atlantic Coast or the charge for direct shipment by rail. If the railroads are allowed to compete, not only will the Middle West producer be enabled to compete on more even terms (which of itself will promote the development of the Central States), but also the railroads will be able to fill out their trains better, to develop their facilities, employ more men and purchase more supplies—all to the advantage of this great Western territory.

The Western railroads feel that the Gooding bill would deprive them of needed business without doing anybody any good, except owners of steamship lines operating through the canal; also that it would take away traffic in which they have participated under the Interstate Commerce Commission's authority since its creation in 1887. It seems most unfair to change the law at this time, in view of all these conditions.

When the Gooding bill was before the Senate Committee on Interstate Commerce, the Interstate Commerce Commission, with but one of its eleven members dissenting, sent the Committee an urgent letter opposing the bill. It summed up the matter most clearly with a concluding statement, showing that the interests of the Central West are involved quite as seriously as ours, as follows:

"The effect of such a provision upon commerce, industry and agriculture, would be revolutionary, and in many cases disastrous to carriers, shippers and communities."

UPLAND, Jan. 26.—Because one of a half-dozen pairs of trousers of a particular make and size was left behind in a shop-lifting expedition a few days ago at a store conducted by George Abraham, 115 Second avenue, Gregory Hernandez, an Upland laboring man, is today under arrest charged with the theft of five pairs of pants and is at liberty under $100 bail to await trial in Judge George R. Crane's court, February 3.

According to Abraham's story to the police, two men entered his store one day last week, and while one of them engaged him with the pricing of articles at the rear the other remained in front. When the pair finally left without having made a purchase, the shopkeeper noticed that the owner of the trousers who had remained in front snuggled suspiciously, and investigation proved that it was a shipment of six pairs of trousers just received from the East were missing.

By that time the men had disappeared. Among others to whom Mr. Abraham confided his loss was R. M. Linkin, a tailor, so today when a pair of pants in an appearance at the tailor shop, 149 Second avenue, carrying two pairs of trousers, one old and one new, and requested that the new ones be cut down to the same size as the old, Linkin called in his neighbor Hernandez, who had been seen in the trousers sent to be altered were identical with the one pair which had been left behind at the Abraham shop. Hernandez's arrest and arraignment followed.

BOND ISSUE IS SOLD BY UNION

Dillon, Read & Co. Group is Purchaser of Liens

Local Oil Company Strong in Cash Assets

Costume Firm Offers Block of Preferred Stock

To refund maturing obligations and provide additional working capital for extensions and improvements, the Union Oil Company of California has sold an issue of $10,000,000 5 per cent ten-year sinking fund bonds.

The bonds, headed by Dillon, Read & Co., and including William B. Staats Co., and the First Securities Company, will be used to refund $2,500,000 of series B 6 per cent bonds maturing in April of this year and $7,500,000 of series A 5 per cent bonds maturing in April of 1924.

The remaining $5,000,000 will be added to working capital, enabling the company to obtain the use of this money at lower interest rates than the preceding issue.

EARNINGS FAVORABLE

The Union Oil Company, according to information received from the company by Dillon, Read & Co., is in a well-fortified financial position.

Cash assets at the end of 1923 are estimated at $10,000,000, and earnings are sufficient to cover interest charges on the funded debt including the present issue by more than nine and one-quarter times.

After allowing for the new bond, the total funded debt of the company is placed at $21,500,000.

For the nine months ended September 30, the company earned the equivalent of approximately $2.50 a share on the outstanding capitalization of $24,500,000, with a value of $28. Unofficially, earnings for the full twelve months of 1923 are estimated at $3 a share.

Dividends of $1.50 annually are paid. Cash dividends amounting to $17,000,000 and stock distributions of $5,748,992 have been made during the past twenty-five years.

The company's proven oil reserves in California alone are estimated by an independent engineer at $60,000,000 barrels.

In addition, the holdings in Colorado, Wyoming and New Mexico are believed to have additional potential value.

Production during 1923 amounted to approximately 15,557,000 barrels, and total receipts, including oil purchased, totaled approximately $4,800,000 barrels.

WELLS SHUT IN

Present production from 508 wells in California is at the daily rate of approximately 44,000 barrels, and in addition the company is purchasing an average of $2,000 barrels a day. It has 146 wells shut in capable of an initial daily production of about 12,000 barrels.

The bonds will be the direct obligation of the Union Oil Company of California, and together with $4,173,000 first mortgage 5 per cent bonds and $3,927,500 twenty-year 6 per cent bonds, series A outstanding, a total of $15,110,500 will constitute the entire funded debt, exclusive of purchase money obligations amounting to $462,492.

This financing is expected to care for the company's needs for the next few years, and it is not contemplated to enter the present market at any time in the near future.

Preferred Stock Offered

A capital stock issue of $500,000 8 per cent cumulative preferred stock is to be issued in exchange for plant facilities being offered by the Western Costume Company, one of the largest concerns of the city.

PACIFIC METROPOLIS SEEN

Babson Predicts Nation's Largest City May Stand on the Shores of This Coast

BY EARLE E. CROWE

"The long-pull outlook for the Pacific Coast was never more reassuring. A study of statistics clearly suggests that here will be the site of a metropolis equaling or surpassing any other city in the nation."

Roger W. Babson, nationally known economist and statistician, offers this prophecy in a special article written for the California Journal of Development. His prediction is not dissimilar from the profound convictions of the entire population along the Pacific Coast, although his reasons are of interest because, presumably, they are supported by economic research.

There is, however, one sharp point of conflict. Each resident of the Pacific Coast region has a positive idea of the location where the national greatest metropolis will outline itself against the skies, while Mr. Babson diplomatically neglects to touch on this point.

This omission perhaps is due to the fact that economic studies are intended to forecast the exact course of events, but merely to indicate the general trend. Along this line, Mr. Babson cites certain fundamental evidence in support of his major premise. He says briefly:

"Commerce on the Pacific is now but a mere fraction of its potential volume."

"The development of Alaska and other northern territory may give an added economic significance to this region. Likewise, the Southwest has immense latent resources."

"This whole section of the country has shown a capacity for rapid growth. It is in some of these Western States that we find the highest rates of population increase."

"Some of the leading minds of industry and finance are turning toward the development of power as the vital field of the future. Here, again, the West is certain to be dominant."

"The industrial development of the region, in spite of its impressive progress, has hardly started. In comparison with possibilities."

To those fully acquainted with the resources of the Pacific Coast, there is little doubt of the ultimate realization of Mr. Babson's forecast. The big business of the future will be done by those States and countries bordering on the Pacific. The commercial and industrial possibilities are being developed as fast as can be expected. Men of his vision are behind the wheel, fully trained in the use of modern tools of business. Their only hindrance has been the paucity of population, or the lack of a sufficient number of producers and consumers to adequately exploit the manifold advantages existing. But as Mr. Babson says, this deficiency is being corrected, for many of the Western States show the highest percentage rates of population increase.

FUTURE WELL CHARTED

In one respect, the Pacific Coast is fortunate that its development is later than that of the Atlantic Coast. The settlement of the Atlantic was a haphazard affair and the pioneers were hardly more than commercial and agricultural gamblers, with little vision of the economic pathways to be traced.

There were no economists with a wealth of statistical data to chart the balance of power and then Philadelphia arose as the leader. Baltimore was unable to convey the message, and then a succession of significant steps brought New York into the front as the nation's capital.

Enough facts have been adduced by competent observers to broad cast throughout the land to millions of people the certainty of the Pacific Coast's future. The migration of the population from the Atlantic to the Pacific is now a fact.

Controlling interest is held in the Globe Cotton Oil Mills, Vernon, which operates cottonseed oil mills at Vernon, El Centro and Calexico, oil refineries at Vernon and El Centro, a fish meal factory at Osted, and a stock yard at Hobart.

COTTON FUTURES IN REACTION BUT REVIVE

(EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH)

NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—The cotton futures had turned reactionary after an initial upturn today, but soon took well in the decline and closed 1 point up from 10 to 10 1/2 cents.

Assured sales and renewed speculation by local bulls reversed the reaction. The late recovery was aided by the belief that the market's technical position had been strengthened as a result of recent heavy liquidation and another session.

Spot cotton closed at 22.50, not unchanged.

FURTHER GAINS IN COPPER SEEN

Price Weakens Slightly but Still Remains Strong

Producers Encouraged to Hold Demands Firmly

Southwest Output Continues to Remain Low

BY CHARLES F. WELLS

The price of copper has weakened slightly and has been standing at the 15-cent mark. This is probably the reaction from the recent rise and the fact that the reaction has had such slight effect on the price is worthy of note. If the producers can hold copper at 15 cents for a while, until the conditions of supply and demand again stabilize themselves, we have reason to expect further advances in the next few months, as the records for 1934 in production, consumption and stocks indicate a higher price is justified. However, if the producers weaken and sell below market to cover immediate cash or dividend requirements we can expect a hovering around 15 cents for some time.

They are encouraging factors when surplus decreases, when domestic consumption maintains its rate of increase, when foreign consumption increases rapidly and when production does not increase rapidly. Also the influence of the quantity of scrap copper available is important, as it adds to the copper available.

The world production during 1934 only increased about 100,000 tons over 1933. This increase came largely from United States and Belgian Congo, the former furnishing about 50,000 tons and the latter 25,000 tons. The proportionate increase, however, was larger from the African mines, being about 50 per cent, while the mines of the United States increased about 1 per cent. The total production from Belgian Congo during 1934 was 94,471 tons, as against 92,212 tons from the United States.

INCREASE AVAILABLE

There is still no evidence of any material increase in production from the producers of the Southwest and it is evident that they have assumed a position of waiting until the consumption of copper demands the increased production, for it is possible to increase southwestern production about 20 per cent over its present figure.

The consumption of copper is indicated largely by the stocks and the fact that the surplus of refined copper decreased from 155,855 tons on January 1, 1934, to 136,424 tons on the 1st inst. shows that about 19,431 tons more copper were consumed during the year than were produced. This is a healthy condition, because the surplus is interesting when compared with the refined surplus of January 1, 1931, when 230,737 tons were available.

Export conditions are continuing to improve and the greatest improvement during the next year may be expected from Germany. A leading copper dealer estimates German consumption in 1934 will be around 150,000 metric tons. The present monthly rate is 12,000 tons, against 10,000 for 1934. Big manufacturers of electrical equipment and apparatus have less than one-third their ordinary reserve stocks of metal, as they are generally keeping only enough ahead to meet the current month's needs and are buying on hand-to-mouth basis.

German cable plants are a third larger than before the war and have 25 per cent more orders in their works, several are booked for a year ahead. The Postoffice Department has already laid 1200 miles of telephone cable and intends to lay 2700 miles more when the Allies withdraw from the occupied territory.

OPTIMISM PREVAILS

Prospects concerning copper production and conditions were discussed by F. O. Beckett, manager of the Phelps-Dodge corporation, early this week. "Copper," began Mr. Beckett, "has shared in the general betterment that has taken place since the November election and at the present time we have a place that is much more satisfactory than the average one that we have been experiencing of late. This is naturally gratifying to the producer of copper. Now permanent this improvement is going to be is another matter. We have had similar advances in the metal prices of recent years, which have been of only short duration and which has been followed by disappointment and lower prices. The marked slackening in domestic demand is another factor leading to weakness. The end of the week finds consumers generally holding aloof until they can see how far the reaction will go. The present state of the market was not entirely unexpected, when the continued advance in prices of the last two or three months and large volume of buying are considered. Sales of speculative and odd lots caused the copper market to be practically established by one or two sellers since last Friday. Consumers, already showing some lack of interest, earlier in the month, were still less interested in the last week but they were alive to bargains and the brass companies particularly seized on various lots of copper which were offered at from 14.3-4 to 15 cents, delivered. Large producers are in an excellent position and showed no tendency through the week to follow the market below 15 cents. Some are quoting firmly at 15.1-4 cents. The export market was exceedingly inactive.

The contract price for lead was reduced yesterday from 10.1-2 to 10 cents, the first decline since Dec. 23, last. The violent decline in lead prices in London led to the change. With yesterday's London prices, lead could be imported for forward delivery for around 10.1-4 cents after all costs were paid. Consumption continues unabated and buyers have only meagre stocks in their warehouses, with a considerable tonnage of February lead still to be bought.

Zinc shared in the general decline of metal prices. Sellers at the close of the week were willing to take as low as 7.6 cents for domestic business, though the nominal asking figure was 7.65 cents. Most sales have been for January shipment, though some metal has been booked for as late as April. The export market was weak.

In tin, there was a pronounced drop. Prices declined a full cent in the course of the day. The 99 per cent grade is again somewhat scarcer. Forward Straits sold at about the same prices as spot.

FISHER'S WEEKLY INDEX

Prof. Irving Fisher's wholesale price index of 200 representative commodities and the relative purchasing power of money compared with monthly averages since January, the low in January, 1922, the peak of prices in May, 1920, and the basic 100 in 1913, follow:

	Index	Purchasing Power
1913	100	100
1920-May (peak of prices)	247	40.5
1922-January (low)	138	72.5
1923-Average	158	63.4
1924-Average	149.3	67.0
January, week ended Jan. 21	149.1	67.2
January, week ended Jan. 10	159.4	62.7
January, week ended Jan. 17	161.6	61.9
January, week ended Jan. 24	162.1	61.7

late rise in the price, however, has been steady and appears to be justified by the increased consumption of copper throughout the world. And there seems no reason to suppose that there is going to be any immediate relapse.

"On the other hand," he continued, "one of the worst things that could happen to us would be a sharp advance above the present price level, to later followed by an equally pronounced drop. The kind of thing has a very demoralizing effect on both producer and consumer and leads to an unhealthy condition. What we need most now is a stabilized condition in copper industry, in which we could receive a fair and reasonable and not excessive price for the metal and one which will lead to the greater use of copper, and at the same time permit the industry in the next few years to get on its feet financially by development in its mines and the efficiency in its plants and attempt to recoup its losses of the past few years."

YOUR INCOME TAX

This is the first of a series of business articles based on changes in the tax situation in 1934. The first article is on the new income tax law, which takes effect on Jan. 1, 1934. The second article will appear in the next issue of the Los Angeles Daily Times.

No. 1
The Revenue Act of 1934 provides for certain specified deductions from gross income in determining net income, among which are business expenses, interest on indebtedness, taxes, losses, bad debts, depreciation, depletion and contributions and gifts. Each will be treated separately.

Deductions for business expenses form the largest claim in the return of many taxpayers. All the ordinary and necessary expenses of a trade or business, or profession or service, or in carrying on any other activity, are deductible.

A taxpayer in trade or business may claim as deductions from gross income a reasonable allowance for salaries paid employees, amounts spent for advertising, premium for insurance against fire or other business risks, cost of fuel, light, water, telephone, stationery, rent, repairs, maintenance, drayage and freight bills and the cost of operation and repair of delivery wagons and trucks. A professional man, such as a doctor, lawyer, accountant or engineer, may deduct the cost of supplies used in his practice, expenses and paid for his business, and for his automobile used for professional calls, dues to professional societies, subscriptions to professional journals, office rent, the cost of fuel, light, heat and water used in such office, and the hire of assistants.

The farmer who operates a farm for profit may deduct all amounts paid in the production and harvesting of his crops, including labor, cost of seed and fertilizer used, cost of minor repairs to buildings (but not the dwelling), and cost of small tools used up in the course of a year or two. Deductions for business expenses must have certain qualities to be deductible. They must relate to a business, trade, profession or service, and they must be incurred in the production of income. A taxpayer may conduct more than one business and claim a deduction for the business expenses of each, provided he devotes sufficient time and attention to each.

Foreign Metal Prices Decline on Lot Disposal
NEW YORK, Jan. 26.—Pronounced decline in metal prices abroad, probably due to selling of speculative lots, particularly by German interests in London, contributed to general weakness in the metal market for the week just ended, Mining Journal-Press reports.

Marked slackening in domestic demand is another factor leading to weakness. The end of the week finds consumers generally holding aloof until they can see how far the reaction will go. The present state of the market was not entirely unexpected, when the continued advance in prices of the last two or three months and large volume of buying are considered. This company with $22,253,250, or $7.77 a share, in 1933. Gross earnings reached $126,450,941, nearly $2,000,000 more than the year before. The year's figures do not include $5,075,857 set aside, being collections above the legal rate for 1934. The company will offer $50,000,000 par 4 1/2 per cent twenty-year debentures as soon as the Public Service Commission approves.

Independent Midwest refiners are reported from Chicago to be paying small premiums over posted prices for crude oil.

The New York Cotton Exchange deal of David Brown, member of the Liverpool and London and India Chamber of Commerce, who recently failed, was sold at auction today for $23,500 to Warner D. Orvis. The previous sale was $25,000.

Surplus of the Missouri, Kansas and Texas Railway increased in 1934 to $1,568,428 from $2,612,423 in 1933, after deducting interest on the adjustment bonds of $7,518,040. Gross revenues increased more than $1,500,000. Operating expenses were cut nearly $4,000,000.

Stockholders of the Magna Copper Company, at a special meeting today, authorized an increase in capital stock of 410,000 shares from 250,000 shares, no par value, and fixed the consideration at $28.00 a share. The new additional stock of 40,000 shares shall be issued.

The Western Union Telegraph Company earned its 7 per cent dividend in 1934. The company's output in 1934 was about 7,904,000 barrels, of which 6,500,000 barrels were produced by the International Petroleum Company. This company had twenty-three producing wells in Colombia at the end of 1934, yielding 10,000 barrels daily. A well brought in on the 16th inst. increased daily the output to 15,000 barrels. In addition, twenty-two wells are being drilled. In the last three years the company's Colombian production aggregated 1,250,000 barrels.

LOAN COMPANY HAS SUCCESSFUL YEAR
The thirty-eighth annual financial statement of the Southern California Loan Association, submitted at the annual stockholders' meeting by Julius H. Martin, secretary, reveals 1934 to have been the best year in the organization's history. Total resources now exceed $2,422,000.

Present officers and directors of the association were all re-elected for the coming year. They are: Charles E. Dennett, president; J. W. Montgomery, vice-president; Maurice S. Heilman, vice-president; Julius H. Martin, secretary; Norman R. Martin, general manager; Horace B. Wilson, I. R. Newton, Robert V. Ellis, C. Helman, James B. Gish, Charles C. Hakes, John J. Malone and George W. Grimes.

Liquidation in Corn and Oats
Halts Advances

CHICAGO, Jan. 26.—(Continued from page 16.)—The liquidation in corn and oats has been halted by a sharp advance in prices. The market was closed at 1 1/2 cents higher for corn and 1/2 cent higher for oats. The advance was due to a report that the government had purchased 100,000 bushels of corn for the navy. The report was first made by the Associated Press and was later confirmed by the Chicago Tribune. The advance in prices was sharp and unexpected. It was the first advance in prices since the market had been closed for several days. The advance was due to a report that the government had purchased 100,000 bushels of corn for the navy. ## Sell and Grow

Progressive Business is a train of departments pulled by a twentieth century selling engine. Production, generally, is limited only by the capacity to sell. To sell is to grow—in size, in profits, in power to serve.

Growth is the evidence of the healthy turn-over of working assets. It is accompanied by decrease in unit costs—selling and production. Larger profits can be taken, or selling prices reduced to increase sales.

As fundamental to Growth, modern management applies scientific Market Analysis and sound methods of Cost Accounting. One gives the sales department absolute knowledge in place of impressions; points the way to efficient selling plans and successful selling action. The other furnishes the management facts and figures from every department—the timely, dependable guides to safe and steady progress.

It has been the pleasure of the Ernst &amp; Ernst organization to cooperate with firms, nationwide, in establishing the simplest and most economical methods of Market Analysis—eliminating waste fields in selling; and sound methods of Cost Accounting—furnishing the power to control inventories.

The Answer Is—
All Three Are Equally Important

An Edison man was asked which he considered the most important division of the Company's activities in carrying forward the electrification of Southern and Central California—

Labor, Capital or Management

His answer was—neither one; that they were all equally important and that neither one could function properly without the other two.

The harmonious working of these three divisions over a period of nearly thirty years is one of the main reasons for the unique position held today among the Utilities of America by the Southern California Edison Company.

SPEDDING IN

They have a contraption now that digs, picks up, sacks and loads potatoes into a wagon in a single operation. After a while it may be trained to furnish special treatment for a potato that has sore eyes.

KEEPING COOL

It is said that enough ice has already been taken out of the Mississippi River this season to keep all the beer in St. Louis cool for ninety-five years. They explain this by saying that there is no real beer in Missouri any more.

THE NEW STUFF

The State of Illinois has contracted for nearly 5,000,000 barrels of Portland cement to be used this year for public buildings and highway construction. Indications from all over the country are that America will have the most wonderful year in road building that the nation has known. This is saying a whole lot.

THE BEAUTIFUL KNOW

Over 25,000 men and 2000 vehicles were kept busy nearly a week in the task of ridding the city of New York of its recent blanket of snow. This is a penalty of city life that it is hard for a native Californian to understand. As a matter of fact, a thick covering of snow can do more to break up the normal machinery of a big city than almost any other natural agency. Yet there are thousands of children in Los Angeles who never even saw a snow shovel.

LOST MOTION

According to the computations of various officials, the cost of crime in this country—in its manifold forms—now reaches the staggering total of $10,000,000 a year. Manifestly it isn't worth it, but the burglars keep plugging along at their unrepentant trade, just as if it were worth while. The cost of crime virtually reaches the cost of a national war. What a win-win world this would be if grown folk never dabbled in either war or crime! And what have they to show for their dabbling but scars and poverty?

RELIGION AND LABOR

One of the big mining companies retains a successful evangelist on its staff. This religious worker conducts revival meetings every now and then and keeps up the spiritual activity of the camp. The company figures that it is a good investment every way. It not only advances the moral and mental standards of the employees, but it saves a lot of labor troubles. When the men are attending revival meetings they are not talking about strikes or agitating for shorter hours. Religion and prohibition are great factors in the promotion of industrial peace.

SERVED A GOOD PURPOSE

Now that The Times popular Limerick contest has come to an end it is worthy of note that it has done more than bring cash rewards to a number of citizens with nimble brains. While the Limerick does not pretend to rank with classic poetry, it is a form of rhyme that calls for considerable ingenuity. The competition was a good method for increasing an acquaintance with the dictionary and for extending the vocabulary of all who took part in it. Like the cross-word puzzle, the frivolous Limerick has decided educational possibilities. And then it has afforded a lot of fun for a host of merry people.

THE RED BROTHER

The most eminent soothsayer and prophet in France says that Russia will be admitted to the League of Nations in 1924. This is still some distance away, but the prospect seems still more remote. It is quite certain that the Red republic will have to effect a complete reversal of its policies before it can be considered as a hopeful candidate for the big League. It is necessary for a government to concede certain rights to other nations and also recognize moral and monetary obligations before it can sit in with white folks. Russia will have to about face and proceed some distance in a new path before it can have civilized company.

THE LONGER LIFE

Although the population is steadily increasing, the death rate is being materially lowered. The statement would seem to be superfluous. It would be expected that our numbers would grow if folks stopped dying, but the point in this case is that the average span of human life is being notably extended. Men who would have passed away under ordinary expectations last year failed to do so. They still live, move and have their being. The statistics of the big life insurance companies say that the deaths in this country were nearly 50,000 less than the year before. Under the usual tables of expectation there should have been more. There are more suicides and more motor tragedies than ever. These two items show a notable increase, but the general trend is toward a lessening of disease and a prolongation of life. For that matter, there are a lot of people who come to California and then forget to die. There is no particular object in it. Heaven has little to offer to a soul attuned to Pasadena.

THE WRECKERS

Why a correspondent, professional or private, should deliberately set out to defame the good name of a State by misstatements having for their obvious purpose the bringing into contempt and contempt of the commonwealth in which he earns his living, is one of the mysteries of journalism. Yet that sort of thing is going on all the time in California and finds an unfriendly press throughout the country eager to print the canards in their largest type. The magnificent strides California has made in population, wealth, industrial development and culture have aroused jealousy which finds eager outlet in such publications, and the war cry of communities being left behind in the race for advancement and preferment has become "Anything to stop California."

Recently a most flagrant misstatement has been given wide publicity and, judging from the number of letters upon the subject which have come to The Times and been turned over to The Times by other recipients, but to the individuals themselves who have accepted the ridiculous statements as gospel.

A story, signed by one Lee Overman, sponsored by Consolidated Press and inserted under a Sacramento date line, contains the following statements in the course of a column article:

From now on the State of California has a legal lien upon and legal right, according to its own laws, to impose and collect a tax upon anything a visitor may possess, whether it be diamonds or other kinds of gems, jewelry, money in the bank, stocks or bonds of corporations in other States, mortgages in other commonwealths—in fact, anything of value.

Not only that, but it is not going to make any difference whether the taxed person is a nonresident or not—whether he is a thirty-day tourist, a winter months' sojourner or one of those from other States who, though they live here the year around, never take up a legal residence for a variety of reasons—usually taxational.

The California State Legislature is scheduled to add the final touches to the legal taxing of anything taxable possessed by anybody who ventures inside the California State line. It will fix the rate of taxes to be imposed. The law providing for such a tax was adopted by the voters of California by a popular referendum last November.

The "down-with-California" press received this tid-bit with signals of delight. They played it across the board under sensational headlines, editorial writers gleefully pointed to the horrible example and solemnly warned their readers not to so much as stick a foot or a tire across the border lest they be summarily held up and their goods and chattels summarily confiscated.

Here is what actually happened: At the last general election a constitutional amendment was adopted authorizing the Legislature to pass a special law covering assessment on foreign securities. This authorization is now before the Legislature in the guise of "Senate Bill No. 37." Neither its measure nor form does it change the law affecting the tourist or nonresident of this State. Neither does it affect any property or class of property, now or hereafter, exempted by the Constitution. California has never taxed the intangible property that is, solvent credits and stocks and bonds, of anyone who is not a legal resident of this State. The State never has attempted to assess, and has not the remotest intention to so assess, even the tangible property of a nonresident.

The proposed law, now known as Senate Bill No. 37, adds to the Political Code the following section:

"The Assessor of each county, city and county, city, district or other political subdivision shall assess notes, debentures, shares of capital stock, bonds, solvent credits and mortgages or deeds of trust, not exempt from taxation, at 7 per cent of the full cash value thereof; provided, that the taxpayer shall have included such property in the annual statement, under oath, made and delivered to the Assessor as required by law; and provided, further, that, in the event of failure or refusal to file such annual statement, such property shall be assessed at its full cash value." A non-resident tourist is assuredly not a taxpayer in California.

Another unqualified, positive misstatement deliberately made in the article under discussion is a statement of fact tied into the liability of the nonresident visitor is the imposition of a poll tax of $5 upon such visitor. This is such utter rot as to be without the pale of debate except to be labeled "untrue."

By way of nailing this particularly vicious bit of anti-California propaganda firmly in its place it may be consistently and specifically laid down, and has been so expressed by the secretary of the State Board of Equalization, that there was no law adopted by the people at the last election which brings into taxation any property that has not been taxable for many years. Neither does this nor any other law of California make the securities or intangible property of "non-residents," "tourists," "sojourners," "temporary visitors," as the articles style them, taxable in this State.

On the contrary, the constitutional amendment referred to is to relieve the securities of California residents (securities of non-residents not being taxable) of a very large percentage of the tax to which they are now and for many years have been subject, the effect of the change being to fix a tax thereon not in excess of three mills, possibly no more than two, in lieu of the present provision.

It is difficult to understand how a law conceived and carefully designed to relieve the tax burden on the classes of property indicated could, by any system of reasoning, however faulty, be construed to do exactly the opposite thing and be also an erroneously and absurdly set up as an attempt to cover properties and classes which are not, and could not be, by any stretch of the imagination, embraced therein.

SUCH PLEASANT NEIGHBORS!

Whoever reads portions of the exhaustive program of the Communist International in Moscow cannot fail to be impressed by the consuming zeal for bettering humanity that animates these Red crusaders. Thus it instructs its agents in Egypt to rouse the Egyptian proletariat till they are inflamed to the point of a general massacre there of Europeans and Americans. This massacre, the Communists hope, will provoke British reprisals, which in their turn will set India on fire with yet vaster killings and bloodshed and devastations. Nice, amiable folk, these Russian Communists!

Patron of Music and Art to Give Tea

BY JUANA NEAL LEVY
The marriage of Miss Mary E. Bowen, attractive daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William M. Bowen, to John J. Huff of Boise City, Idaho, will be one of the beautifully arranged affairs of this evening, the ceremony taking place at 7 o'clock at the home of the bride's parents, 1144 West Thirty-fifth street, Rev. Mrs. H. Healy officiating. There will be no attendants, but the bride will enter the drawing-room on the arm of her father. The house will be a bower of ferns and wild fruit blossoms, a color scheme of pink and green being effectively carried out. The bride's gown is an exquisite creation of soft white satin with heavy embroidery in crystal-cut beads. Her veil of tulle will be caught by sprays of orange blossoms. She will carry an arm shower of bride's roses, orchids and lilies of the valley. The ceremony will be witnessed by the immediate relatives only, but at 8 o'clock there will be a reception for friends. Tomorrow Mr. Huff and his bride are leaving in their motor for a wedding trip and, after their return, will make their home here. Miss Bowen is graduated from University of Southern California and is a member of the Chi Omega sorority, and also of the honorary society Torch and Tassel of the same university. Mr. Huff was graduated from George Washington University of Washington, D. C. He is a Sigma Chi fraternity member. Numerous charmingly arranged affairs have been given in honor of Miss Bowen, among the recent ones being the "at home" with which Mrs. Alfred Kate entertained, and the luncheon with which Mrs. Frank Phillips of Santa Monica entertained at her home. Mrs. Hyman Furman and Mrs. Harry Blaney were co-hostesses at a luncheon at the latter's home on the 16th inst., and Mrs. Oliver Wendt gave a dinner-dance last week at the Casino Country Club in honor of Miss Bowen and Mr. Huff.

One of the charmingly arranged events of recent date in Pasadena and Los Angeles social circles was the luncheon and musical with which Mrs. Hugh M. McFarland (Georgiana Godfrey) entertained Wednesday afternoon at the Valley Hunt Country Club, in honor of her mother, Mrs. A. F. Goddard of Grand Rapids, Mich., who is wintering here at her daughter's home in Oak Knoll avenue. Ninety guests from Los Angeles and the Crown City were invited. The small luncheon tables were covered with low plaques of lavender stock and lighted by lavender-shaded candelabra. Following the luncheon, a delightful musical program was given by the hostess, who played several groups of piano numbers, including several of her own compositions, and

EVANGELISM UNFOLDS TRUTH

Christian Science Lecturer
Defines Creed

Says Redemption is Based on Understanding

Foundation of Religion is Self-Sacrifice

A consideration of evangelism may properly begin with angels, said Dr. John M. Tut, C.R.B., member of the board of lecturership of the Mother Church, the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Mass., in a lecture last evening at Third Church of Christ, Scientist, Los Angeles. His lecture followed:

It was angels who announced to the wise men the coming of Jesus, the Saviour. Popular belief conceives angels to be celestial beings, humanly defined, God's messengers, bearing communications from God to man. Just why God, who is everywhere, should need a medium of transmission of His thought does not appear in reason, although it does appear in the human mind. Certainly, if, as Job declared, God is "in one mind," His activity is not in the human mind, but in the human mind. It is therefore proper to conclude that angels are not merely God's messengers, but are the actual messengers themselves. Angels are God's communications to man. Human beings may bestow upon them finite, though actual, form, may clothe them with clouds of glory, and give to them all the imagery of the poet's fancy, but no greater, no beauty, no heavenly atmosphere, can exceed the simple truth that God, Mind, communicates with man spiritually, consciously and that the communication is vital, instantaneous and direct. "And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host," a multitude of right ideas. "The kingdom of God is within you," said Jesus. Within what? Within brain, stomach, lungs, blood, bones? Surely not. Evidently within consciousness, within understanding. The heavenly host has never failed to be and to abide with the spiritually minded. True evangelism changes the querulous cry, "Lord, I believe; help thou mine unbelief," into the glad Hosanna, "Lord, I believe, because I understand!"

KINDS OF CHRISTIANS

An ignorant Christian is a paradox. The scientific Christian is the enlightened Christian. Redemption means not subscription to a metaphysical dogma or theological creed, not emotional acceptance of a man-made salvation, falsely labeled divine. Redemption is rather the acquiring of a gift of God, a gift purchased with a price—the price of daily endeavor to know the liberating and transforming Truth, the Christ. So Christian Science appeals not to the emotions. It touches indeed the heart of man, but its primary appeal is to understanding. I state boldly that Christian Science is the only religion that has not faltered in the face of logic and reason. Christian Science is byworded in the triumph that no wrong conclusion can logically follow correct premises. From reason to revelation is a step in sequence, and that step is followed by spiritual understanding—the angelic presence. Spiritual understanding enters man into the atmosphere of God.

True evangelism, then, addresses itself to the individual consciousness. It has none of the elements of mass psychology. It is not mesmerism; it is spiritually scientific. It does not mystify; it clarifies. It does not storm; it convinces. It is said that Charlemagne evangelized the Teutonic tribes. At the point of the sword he drove 30,000 savages into the Rhine and baptized them. Does any one imagine that procedure made a Christian nation? A militant preaching can never alone do the work of true evangelism. Christian Science rightly evangelizes from God, confining the militancy of Michael, who "fights the holy war" (Science and Health, p. 147.) with the kindness of Gabriel, who through love leads men gently out of the mesmerism of sin and disease into holiness and health.

THE DUAL ASPECT

Humanly viewed, salvation in all its phases, salvation from sin, sickness, discord, death, is an event. It is something that comes to pass. But divinely considered, salvation is a condition—the condition of man as he really exists, not materially but spiritually. God's man is always saved man. "Like Christ, he is 'the same yesterday, and today, and forever.'" To him salvation does not come to pass. That is because God is the saving Principle, or cause, and all that He makes is in a continuing and eternal state of preservation. The real man exists always at the point of salvation. God has conceived His creation in terms of imperfection, deterioration, disease, inhumanity, or transgression. Christian Science reveals that the de-basement of man is a myth.

True evangelism, then, has a two-fold aspect and presentation. It unfolds first the truth about salvation—the truth concerning God and man; then it relates the infinite truth to finite human interests by showing: first, salvation as the great fact of being; secondly, salvation as a human event. The real man of God's creating needs no redemption. It is the false, human, finite self that needs to be evangelized.

Christian Science, let it be said, is not a course in spiritual aviation. It does not soar in sublime detachment from humanity and its needs. Christian Science, truly evangelized, comes to earth and all its uncleanness, discord, disease, and sin, not to partake of the earth, but to cleanse, to harmonize, to heal and to save. Christian Science is in the world, though not of it. No less important than its divinity is the humanity of the gospel.

TRULY EVANGELICAL

Can it be doubted that Christian Science is truly evangelical? What is its effect upon human lives? It revives the individual, satisfying his thirst for spiritual things and healing his body. It preaches and practices the undivided ministry of Christ Jesus. In Christian Science every man assiduously does the work of an evangelist. He preaches the gospel—he applies truth to the false creations of the human mind. He daily evangelizes himself and others.

A scientific Christian is a Chris-

JUSTICE HALL STONE LAID

Impressive Ceremony Marks New Epoch for City; State, County and Council Leaders Speak

An epochal milestone in the onward progress of Los Angeles was passed yesterday with the laying of the corner-stone for the new $4,000,000 Hall of Justice at Temple, Broadway and New High streets. The occasion was significant not, master of ceremonies, and urged that steps be taken at once to acquire property for the proposed Civic Auditorium, which is a part of the Civic Center plan. Judge Valentine sketched the epochs in the development of Los Angeles and termed the beginning of the Civic center program, the beginning of the greatest of all epochs in the history of the city.

Other speakers on the program were President Doyle Workman of the City Council, Robert M. Clark, president of the County Bar Association, United States District Judge Blodgett and Edwin Bergstrom, president of the Allied Architects Association. Rev. E. P. Ryland delivered the invocation with a plea that the purpose for which the building is intended may never be misdirected.

A copper box, containing mementoes of the occasion, was inserted in a cavity of the corner-stone at the conclusion of the ceremonies and carefully guided by the workman, the stone was laid down into place. In the box were lists of the personnel of the departments which will occupy the building, the Civic Center plan, articles of incorporation and membership, rules of the Superior Court, the annual report of the county for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1924, the County Charter, the telephone directory, an American flag, copies of the Los Angeles Times and other city newspapers, and copies of the newspapers from Inglewood, Long Beach, Alhambra, Buena Vista, Santa Monica, San Pedro and Whittier.

ASSOCIATION TO MEET

Harbor Transportation Body to Gather

The Harbor Transportation Association, recently formed to promote the common interests of carriers and industries of the Wilmington and San Pedro districts and Long Beach, will hold its second meeting in the clubhouse of the Pacific Electric Building, San Pedro, Friday at 7:30 p.m. The association expects an enrollment of 500 members within a short time.

TEN ADMITTED TO BAR

Appeal of Channing Follette is Taken Under Adversement

Ten attorneys from other States were admitted to practice law before the California bar by the Second District Court of Appeal, Division One, yesterday. They are: L. N. Lawrence, Ohio; Claude V. Hickman, Kansas; Melville Roy Adams, Illinois; Joseph T. Rine, Wisconsin; J. M. Clements, Jr., Montana; Edwin C. Perkins, Illinois; Frank H. Herron, New Mexico; John Clark Hesse, Kansas; C. B. Diehl, Utah, and Roy M. Sayre, Arkansas.

The appeal of Channing Follette, former presiding justice of the peace, who was found guilty of perjury, was taken under advisement by the court during its session. Follette asked the court to reverse the judgment returned against him in Superior Court and grant him the right to a new trial.

BERNARDO'S WRIT UP TO HIGH COURT

State Supreme Judges to Review 'Kidnaping' Case of Garburt Posponed

Unraveling of the mix-up, which has involved Superior Judges here and police officials of San Francisco, as a result of an asserted "kidnaping" of Joseph Bernardo, an Italian resident of Los Angeles, is scheduled as part of the official business of the State Supreme Court here today.

Bernardo was arrested last December in Los Angeles by the San Francisco police for failure to provide for his children, but was released through habeas corpus proceedings. Some time later an indictment was returned against him in San Francisco charging him with a like offense and he was arrested a second time. In an effort to again secure his release Bernardo's attorneys applied to Superior Judge Crail for another writ of habeas corpus and the validity of this writ is to be considered by the high tribunal today.

In the meantime, Bernardo's attorneys have asked the Supreme Court to issue a third writ of habeas corpus for their client's release on the grounds that the $1000 cash bail he was required to raise pending trial on the indictment is excessive. This also will be considered today.

HOPE SEEN FOR IOWA FARMERS

Former Chief Justice of State Supreme Court is Here for Winter

For the first time since the bursting of the bubble of frenzied land speculation early in 1920, the farmers of Iowa are able to see daylight ahead, according to Scott M. Ladd, of Des Moines, former Chief Justice of the Iowa Supreme Court, who is under sentence of death for the murder of Mrs. Dorothy Lee Hunt of Pasadena.

Judge Ladd, who retired to private practice in 1921, after nearly a quarter of a century on the Supreme bench, is now in Los Angeles, accompanied by Mrs. Ladd, to spend the rest of the winter here. He expressed himself as highly appreciative of the balmy weather prevailing in Los Angeles.

The Iowa farmer has had pretty tough sledding during the last few years," said Judge Ladd. "Crops have been good, but prices have been extremely low, the reduction in the cost of living over having kept pace with the farmers' returns. Last year, however, there was an unusually large crop of small grain, with excellent prices, and though the corn crop was not so large as in some years, the price of a dollar a bushel now being received, is easing up the situation. Hops are up to 5 cents a pound, which is high. Probably the most encouraging thing is the fact that no signs that corn will go below $1 during the present year."

SAN DIEGO BROKER DENIED NEW LICENSE

Roy Nebbett, a San Diego broker, yesterday was refused a 1925 broker's license by Commissioner of Corporations Daugherty at a hearing called at Nebbett's request and Long Beach, will hold its second meeting in the clubhouse of the Pacific Electric Building, San Pedro, Friday at 7:30 p.m. The association expects an enrollment of 500 members within a short time.

F. J. McGowan of the Outer Harbor Dock and Wharf Company, is president; Lynn C. Ballard of the California Almond Confection Company, is vice-president, and Sydney S. Sack, ticket agent of the Santa Fe at Long Beach, is secretary and treasurer.

VETERANS' HEAD COMING

Frank J. Irwin of New York, national commander of the Disabled American Veterans, will arrive in Los Angeles on February 4 and will be a guest at the Biltmore.

HOSPITAL MAY RENT ONE WING

Income from Tenants Would Endow Free Beds

Clara Barton Finance Plan Announced to Public

Raising of Funds by Popular Subscription Now On

The Clara Barton Memorial Hospital, which is to be erected on the southeast corner of Fourth street and Broadway avenue, will be a ten to thirteen-story building, and one wing may be rented to physicians or to allied professionals, it was learned last night. Revenue from the rented office rooms will be used to endow free beds in the institution, inasmuch as the institution is to be a nonprofit organization and intended as a general downtown hospital open to the public. As much of it is to be open free to persons of means as can be financed by endowment, it was said at the headquarters of the campaign committee, Biltmore Hotel building.

Funds for the hospital are to be raised by popular subscription, and that part of the work is being directed by C. L. Johnson. At a meeting presided over by Federal Judge Bledsoe it was arranged that Mrs. Nichols Milbank should take charge of the women's campaign division, she was aided by support of Mrs. W. A. Callender, Mrs. Patrick C. Campbell, Mrs. William J. Chisholm, Mrs. William Henry Cline, Mrs. George Herbert Cline, Mrs. A. R. Cooke, Mrs. J. L. Fitzgerald, Mrs. Charles Jeffries, Mrs. Sumner P. ## DISCUSSES CHURCH FUTURE

Visiting Clergyman Declares It Was Never Brighter Than at Present Time

The future of the church was never brighter than at the present time, declared Dr. Charles L. Goodell, of New York, secretary of the Federal Council of Commissioners on Evangelism and Life Service, at the first of a series of conferences with local ministers and laymen at the First Methodist Episcopal Church yesterday.

The conferences have been arranged between the local churchmen and a group of the Federal Council, headed by Dr. Goodell, for the purpose of stimulating the work of the churches of Los Angeles and surrounding cities. The visiting churchmen represent twenty-eight of the leading denominations of the country. In his opening address Dr. Goodell laid great stress upon the responsibility of the layman for the progress of the church, declaring that in the last analysis the laymen are responsible not only for the material advance of the church, but also for its spiritual impact on its day and generation. "There is nothing wrong with the church today or with society," he declared.

Jay-Walkers Find Bluecoats on the Job

JAYWALKING LEADS TO JAIL

than 100 per cent, said the officers, who attributed it to the fact that automobiles, trucks and street cars no longer were forced to pass the crosswalks at a hesitant pace, for fear of striking lagging pedestrians.

CROSS BETWEEN STREETS
On intersections where only one policeman stood, intent on directing traffic without the aid of signals, the jaywalkers bloomed in all their glory and scuttled about among autos and street cars with all their customary activity. On every block along Broadway there were at least three people crossing between streets from curb to curb at the same time.

In a few days, said Lieut. Hubbs, traffic officers will begin tagging the jaywalkers. In case a pedestrian can prove his residence and identify himself as a responsible person he will receive a tag directing him to put up his ball within forty-eight hours. Failing that, he will be arrested and taken to jail, where he has the option of producing the money or being inducted into the intricacies of jail life.

FIVE HELD; LOOT HOARD RECOVERED

Round-up Follows Long Investigation of Many Burglaries

With the arrest yesterday of five men in a house at 115 Madison street and the recovery there of four trunks loaded to overflowing with plunder estimated in value at more than $10,000, police announced they had smashed one of the most resourceful burglar gangs ever to operate here. At least thirty-five burglaries are credited by the officers to the five suspects under arrest.

The suspects, under arrest are John Mendez, 21 years of age; Salvador Tapia, 19; Willie Charvia, 28; Eliaz Cota, 24, and Edmundo Charvia, 21.

They were rounded up by Detective Lieutenants Moore and Hickory of the Hollenbeck police division after an extended investigation into numerous burglaries in this district.

In the trunks, the officers said, they found a vast amount of jewelry, watches, pins, bracelets, furs, clothing and many other articles. These will be placed on exhibition at 3 p.m. today at the Hollenbeck police station for identification by victims of recent robberies.

The suspects are held on charges of burglary.

PEPALL DENIED FREEDOM

Habeas Corpus Writ Refused Canadian Accused of Embezzlement; Warrant by Wednesday

A writ of habeas corpus, seeking to release Andrew Pepall, former president of the Long Beach Glass Company and arrested on a charge of embezzlement of $248,000 worth of war bonds, was denied yesterday by United States District Judge Bledsoe.

At the same time, however, Judge Bledsoe informed the counsel representing the British government here that he must have a copy of an indictment, warrant or other papers showing that an actual charge existed against Pepall in Canadian courts before 1 p.m. Wednesday, or the accused man would be released on bail or dismissed entirely, according to the judge.

The contention of Defense Counsel Ben Hunter was that the local British Consul, Geoffrey Fisher, has sworn out the complaint in the Federal courts here "on information and belief" only that such charges existed in Canada, and that, this is in violation of the treaty existing between the two countries. They asked, therefore, that their client be admitted to bail or released entirely.

The British representative told the court that he had wired for the necessary papers, and expected them by registered mail by Wednesday.

In making his decision, Judge Bledsoe declared that the liberty of anyone, whether a citizen or Both these ships, however, will take part in the Hawaiian maneuver which starts when the combined United States Fleet sails from Los Angeles Harbor April 2, H. H. probable the Idaho may accompany the fleet as far as Pago Pago, Samoa, turning back at the South Sea port.

The U.S.S. Colorado will not take part in the Army-Navy war game off Hawaii, but will go to the Puget Sound navy yard April 15 for overhaul, remaining until May 27, after which she will join the fleet in Hawaiian waters.

Nine general officers will make the cruise. They will include Admiral Robert S. Coontz, commander-in-chief of the United States Battle Fleet; Admiral Samuel D. When burglars broke into the paint store of N. H. Shapiro at 323 South Main street two years ago, Shapiro reported the burglary to the police and didn't take the trouble to repair a hole in the roof through which the burglars gained entrance.

He was reminded of his neglect yesterday, according to police reports, when he discovered that the same hole had been used by burglars who broke into his safe and carried off $248.15.

The hole is to be repaired immediately, according to the police.

BILL ON RELIGION IS BACKED

Speakers at Episcopal Diocese Convention Point Out
Gary (Ind.) System Passes Tests

"Adherents of practically all religions and creeds have endorsed the bill providing for released time to public school children in order that they may be instructed, at the church of their guardians' choice, in matters of religion," said Joseph O. Doolittle, executive secretary of the Southern California Council of Religious Education, yesterday at the meeting of the Board of Christian Education which opened the thirtieth annual convention of the Episcopal Diocese at St. Paul's Cathedral.

It was pointed out by Doolittle and other speakers that the "Gary (Ind.) system," which permits students to receive a certain amount of religious instruction and to be given credit for advancements, is already in effect in eighteen States and that the results have been satisfactory.

OTHER WOMAN NAMED

Wife Says Rival Answered Door on Her Return From East

When Lois M. Thornburg returned home from a two months' trip East, expecting a fond husband to greet her at the door with open arms, she was met instead by another woman who asked her what she wanted, according to a divorce complaint filed by Mrs. Thornburg yesterday against E. Frank Thornburg.

The other woman, who gave the name of Mrs. Florence Watkins, told her that she had been in the house for some time and also that she had "stepped out" with Thornburg, the wife added.
